BOYLE TELLS OF OTHER MEN IN CASE

Whitla Affair May Prove Involved; One Man Was to Have Half of Ransom

ANOTHER KNEW NOT THE BOY HAD BEEN STOLEN

Mrs. Boyle Now on Trial Almost Mobbed Yesterday by Furious Crowd

MERCER, Pa., May 7.—James H. Boyle, convicted of kidnapping Billie Whitla, today informed Judge Williams, who is presiding at the trial of Mrs. James H. Boyle, charged with kidnapping, that a man living at Mercer planned the kidnapping, and was to have received half the ransom.

Boyle also implicated two other men in the kidnapping, declaring that one acted without knowledge that the boy was stolen. He did not implicate Mrs. Boyle, who, throughout her husband's statement, nodded assent to his remarks.

Boyle said he would reveal the names of the men when he came up for sentence. This is a practical confession of his own guilt.

MRS. BOYLE WAS NEAR BEING MOBBED YESTERDAY

While Billie Whitla's father was on the stand, James Boyle was called to court to tell where the letters were that passed between himself and Whitla. Boyle blurted out:

"I want to know where I'm at. I want to know that before I say anything now. I want a fair deal. I have not had it, and I want to know where I'm at."

Judge Williams sternly ordered him to keep quiet. Boyle has not the letters now.

ELDRIDGE SHAW TO GO TO GRANDFATHER

His Father Will Have Him Later; Mrs. Shaw Refuses to Go East

SANTA BARBARA, May 7.—Although Mrs. Nettie F. Shaw, wife of James F. Shaw, the Boston traction magnate, and state senator, lost her petition for a writ of habeas corpus to secure the release of her son Eldridge, aged 7 years, from the custody of the chief of police, yet the lad and his mother will journey east together, probably today. Accompanying them will be H. F. Eldridge, the father of Mrs. Shaw, who is a sort of temporary trustee to see that the boy is returned to his father in Boston.

H. Keno Marble, Shaw's chauffeur with whom the woman is alleged to have eloped, and with whom she has lived here for a year under the name of Mrs. Marble, has disappeared. A conference of the Shaw's will be held in Boston upon the arrival there of the party.

NO WHITEWASHING COMMITTEE CAN GO

Americans and English to Have Hand in Investigating Massacres

(By Bysantius Mosephopoulos, staff correspondent United Press)

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 7.—Members of the American diplomatic corps here are taking steps to prevent the committee which will investigate the massacres in Asia Minor, from giving a report whitewashing the government. Every effort will be made to place a representative of the United States and Great Britain on the committee, and France will probably make a similar move. It is believed that Ferid Pasha, the Minister of the Interior, who will name the committee, will accede to the request rather than have a separate investigation. The announcement that has been made that martial law will be retained here indefinitely, was caused by a recent breach between the soldiery and the Young Turks committee on union and progress.

CABINET ROW ON POLICY OF PUBLIC LANDS

Ballinger and Wilson Lock Horns Over Matter of Land For Forest Rangers

TEDDY'S CONSERVATION IDEAS ENDANGERED

Taft Will Decide Question of Moment for All of His Administration

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Former President Roosevelt's policy of conservation of resources was on trial today when the cabinet, probably for the first time since the Civil war, listened to a difference of opinion between two of its members, Secretaries Ballinger and Wilson, over the interpretation of the land laws concerning the withdrawal from entry of certain public lands.

President Taft heard the arguments in compliance with their request that he settle the dispute.

Gifford Pinchot, chief forester, precipitated the clash when he heard Secretary Wilson ask Secretary Ballinger to withdraw certain land in the West to be used as stations for his forest rangers. Ballinger refused to grant the request, saying such an action would be illegal. Wilson denied that it was illegal, and resented the imputation of unfairness.

Both secretaries took their trouble to President Taft, who told them to prepare statements for presentation at the cabinet meeting today. The president's verdict will be of the utmost importance bearing upon the future policy of the administration regarding public lands.

SEARCH FOR FRIEND PROVES FRUITLESS

New Posse Takes up Man-hunt; Kerchief Only Clue to Brute Who Attacked Girl

COLLEGE PARK, Cal., May 7.—Wearied by an all-night man hunt for the fiend who attacked Miss Minnie Withrow, aged 20, deputy sheriffs and a posse were replaced by another posse and the search was continued today.

The girl was a former student of the university of the Pacific. She was attacked, gagged, stripped and assaulted, then left in a field, from where she finally made her way home. There were several arrests but all the suspects easily proved their innocence. The officers' only clue is the handkerchief with which she was gagged.

FRANCE WILL FIGHT UNIONS

Will Prosecute Leaders of That Movement for Employees Government

PARIS, May 7.—The French government today began proceedings to dissolve the union of its employees, which it declared to be in defiance of the law.

Leaders of the union movement may be criminally prosecuted. This action may prevent the precipitation of a revolution, as union organization would give the government telegraphers and telephoners the right to strike.

The men recently complained that the government was not living up to the agreement made when the recent strike was declared off.

MRS. BOYLE WAS ALMOST MOBBED YESTERDAY

MERCER, Pa., May 7.—Mrs. James H. Boyle, on trial and accused of kidnapping Billie Whitla, faced the boy without emotion when he identified her today. Billie told the story of his kidnapping and appeared to enjoy being a witness.

STEVENS NOT IN POSITION TO TAKE JOB

He Not Being Qualified for Appointment Stock Inspector's Office is Vacant

THE LAW WAS SUCH HE CAN'T SERVE NOW

Didn't Know License Needed—Will Go After One at Once

The office of county stock inspector is now vacant. Dr. H. J. Stevens, who was recently appointed county stock inspector by the Board of Supervisors, cannot take the office at the present time, and was not qualified under the state law for appointment. He has been in this state only since last November and has not yet secured a state license, which license he must have before he can hold the county inspection job. Under the law his appointment is null and void, and even should he secure a state license tomorrow he probably could not legally hold the office without reappointment.

The state laws governing veterinary surgeons are said to be such that a diploma of graduation from a veterinary school is all that is necessary to practice. Some two or three years ago a new law regarding the state license and holding the county stock inspector's position went into force, so that before an appointee can qualify he must have his state license on record with the county clerk. Dr. Stevens did not know of this law, considering that his right to practice gave him a right to hold the office, and he has not the state license, but expects to take out one.

The Board of Supervisors may or may not, as it sees fit, on May 19, the date of its next meeting, appoint a county stock inspector.

Oh me! I saw a huge and loathsome sty,
Wherein a drove of wallowing swine were barred,

Then spoke a voice, "Behold the source of LARD!"

A Bold Step.

To overcome the well-grounded and reasonable objections of the more intelligent to the use of secret, medicinal compounds, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., some time ago, decided to make a bold departure from the usual course pursued by the makers of put-up medicines for domestic use, and so has published broadcast and openly to the whole world, a full and complete list of all the ingredients entering into the composition of his widely celebrated medicines. Thus he has taken his numerous patrons and patients into his full confidence. Thus too he has removed his medicines from among secret nostrums of doubtful merits, and made them Remedies of Known Composition.

By this bold step Dr. Pierce has shown that his formulas are of such excellence that he is not afraid to subject them to the fullest scrutiny.

Not only does the wrapper of every bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the famous medicine for weak stomachs, and liver or biliousness and all catarrhal diseases wherever located, have printed upon it, in plain English, a full and complete list of all the ingredients composing it, but a small book has been compiled from numerous standard medical works, of all the different schools of practice, containing very numerous extracts from the writings of leading practitioners of medicine, endorsing in the strongest possible terms, each and every ingredient contained in Dr. Pierce's medicines. One of these little books will be mailed free to any one sending address on postal card or by letter, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and requesting the same. From this little book it will be learned that Dr. Pierce's medicines contain no alcohol, narcotics, mineral salts or other poisonous or injurious agents, and that they are made from native, medicinal roots of great value; also that some of the most valuable ingredients contained in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak, nervous, over-worked, "run-down," nervous and debilitated women, were employed, long years ago, by the Indians for similar ailments affecting their squaws. In fact, one of the most valuable medicinal plants entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was known to the Indians as "squaw-weed." Our knowledge of the uses of not a few of our most valuable native, medicinal plants was gained from the Indians. As made up by improved and exact processes, the "Favorite Prescription" is a most efficient remedy for regulating all the womanly functions, correcting displacements, as prolapsus, anteversion and retroversion, overcoming painful periods, toning up the nerves and bringing about a perfect state of health. Sold by all dealers in medicines.

highest endorsement from pastors with whom he has labored.

It is safe to say that Mr. Jones is unlike any evangelist who has ever visited Santa Ana. The methods employed by him are free from any sensational plan to gain converts. He does not attempt to scare or scold people into making decisions for the better life. On embarrassing tests are used. The meetings are free from clap-trap and from all the morbid and emotional excitement that sometimes characterize evangelistic meetings.

Evangelist Jones has vigorous support in Mr. Carl E. Burch who is one of the most popular gospel singers in the work. He possesses a rich baritone voice and is especially good in singing the old gospel hymns. The music will be a feature of the meetings and a large chorus under the direction of Mr. Burch will lead the singing. A lively song service will precede the address each evening and E. O. Excell's cheerful and charming hymn book will be used. Mr. Burch will sing several selections each evening.

While these services are under the auspices of the First Methodist church it is the desire of those having the meetings in charge to make them a blessing to the entire city. People of every church and of no church are heartily invited. During the week nights the services will begin promptly at 7.45. There will be no charge for admittance; all seats are free. Don't fail to attend the first service Sunday night, May 9th.

At the present time this organization is grading property and prosecuting other work.

A general shake-up is going on among the street car men on this line. Not one of the present force will remain here after the 15th inst.

OBJECT LESSON OF ACREAGE YIELD

Santa Monica Man Demonstrates What Can be Raised
On Less Than Acre

SANTA MONICA, May 7.—As demonstrating the possibilities of Southern California soil and climate, W. K. Cowan comes forward with an object lesson in intensified agriculture. From a city lot of nine-tenths of an acre he has marketed $88 worth of Irish potatoes, since January. They were grown between rows of blackberry bushes, and already the ground has been cleared and planted to corn, which has attained a height of six inches. The experience of Mr. Cowan warrants him in the belief that there is a good living for a family on every five-acre tract upon which water is carried, provided the soil is tilled carefully and with proper rotation and intensification of crops. Even one acre is full of possibilities, but with five acres there is an opportunity for fruit trees of all kinds, to say nothing of berries, chickens, and other stock in limited numbers.

DOES ADVERTISING PAY?

Live men and live firms advertise.
Even the cemeteries advertise.
Does advertising pay?

The shrewdest and most successful business men have but one answer to this question. Advertising pays, and no business not advertised can be made to pay.

The question "Does Advertising pay?" would be most conclusively answered if the trade tracks of the people in any city remained visible. It would be found that these lines of trade-travel enter the front doors of certain firms while others are neglected. If one were to investigate, it would be discovered that the most frequently and thickly traveled trade pathways of a city lead to the business houses doing the advertising.

In favored locations on the banks of the Columbia River, where land in general would be worth $50 to $100 per acre, is raised what is known the world over as the "Hood River Apple," this being the name of the locality, not the name of the apple. The Spitzenberg and Yellow Newton Pippin from the Hood River Valley easily sell at a nickle apiece in the London market. Other sections of the Northwest raise just as good apples and just as fine looking and finely flavored apples of the same varieties, selling them at only one-half price. One is thoroughly advertised under the distinctive name, carefully packed to preserve the reputation of the name, and the demand in the foreign market is FOR THE NAME plus the apple.

The "Clark Seedling" strawberry, shipped into the mining regions of Montana, commands and controls that market at a fancy price in exactly the same way, making the land on which they are raised worth $1000 an acre, although the berry season is of only a month duration. Advertising has done it—reputation through advertising. The strawberry is perishable, if a day's picking is delayed in shipment for a single day the profit is gone, therefore the demand day by day must be keen and the distribution perfect to prevent oversupply and a fall in price due to overloading a given market. Judicious advertising does the work.

ADVERTISING CREATES DEMAND. DEMAND MAKES SALES. SALES MAKE MONEY, AND MONEY MAKES THE WORLD—THE COMMERCIAL WORLD—GO 'ROUND.

That firm in a city which appreciates the value of advertising has learned the logic of sowing the seed as a necessary preliminary to reaping the harvest.

The newspaper carries the argument, which the merchant, the producer and the manufacturer cannot carry personally to the homes of the people of a city. The newspaper is a daily visitor to these homes, and the only daily visitor.

The firm whose business is best advertised in the columns of the newspaper is the firm whose name is most familiar in every household in the city. As the only daily visitor to a city's homes, the newspaper is the only vehicle which the merchant or manufacturer can use to carry to the public, daily, the information he has to give and for which the buyer is looking. When the advertisement reaches the business counter of the newspaper, the newspaper carries it into every home.—Pasadena Daily News.

STATEMENT OF CONDITIONS AT THE CENTRAL SCHOOLS

(By W. C. Roberts, principal of Central Schools)

In response to a request the following statement regarding conditions at Central school is made:

1. Both of the buildings have been condemned by the grand jury, the primary building having been condemned several years ago. After careful examination a committee appointed for that purpose recently reported the Grammar school building both unsafe and unsanitary.

2. During the present year, in order to seat pupils who have applied for admission, four small rooms are used for class rooms that were never intended for that purpose and are not suitable to be so used. The entire floor space of these rooms is crowded with desks not leaving suitable space for aisles, teachers' desks, chairs, etc. The black-board and wall surface is insufficient for satisfactory work. One of these rooms is about fifteen feet square and is seated with eighteen desks, a small table and one chair. Another room is the old library, and another a small room that was used by the high school as a lobby or wash room. At present 115 pupils attend school in these four small rooms. Teachers find it impossible to do the best work under these conditions and proper ventilation is impossible. The large building is never intended for a grammar school and is poorly constructed for that purpose. There are eight large rooms in the building which answer very well, but the halls and stairways are very inconvenient.

3. One of the worst conditions is the lack of sufficient grounds. The boys of the grammar school, over two hundred in number, are compelled to play on Sycamore street as there are no other playgrounds for them. This street being used as a general highway, is dirty, dusty and must be an unhealthy playground. Even if the street were a proper playground, it is too small for proper exercise for so many boys.

As the street is crowded with children during recesses and intermissions, it can not be used freely as a city street.

Although the property owners adjoining the street have been patient and long suffering, frequent complaints have been made of damages to property. These complaints have been so frequent recently that privileges heretofore enjoyed by the boys have been denied them, and as the street is becoming more used as a residence street, very soon the boys will be confined to the limited portion immediately adjoining the school property.

Relief should be provided for these boys as the present condition is a positive hindrance to their proper development as well as to the good order of the school. At present the capacity of the buildings is over-taxed, even after using every room, and if any considerable increase in attendance should be made, which is certain to occur, the conditions at Central would become even more embarrassing than at present.

An adjustment has been made whereby the foreclosure suit brought by F. L. Thurston and Harry Hughes against the Orange County Coal Mining Co. has been dismissed in the Superior court. The interest on the plaintiff's note and cost of suit have been paid to date, and a new mortgage given them on the 100 acres of coal mining property in the Santiago canyon. The coal company has been reorganized with new men of responsibility and experience in charge, who will push the enterprise rapidly and expect to do work on the shafts at once. Thurston and Hughes formerly owned the mine and sold to the company. E. E. Keech was their attorney in the action recently begun and today dismissed.

"Elijah" Tonight

The splendid advance sale of seats for tonight's production of Mendelssohn's oratorio of "Elijah" demonstrates that the people of Santa Ana are appreciative of the best in music, and are loyal to the musical organization that, with its devoted director, Miss Dresser, has labored persistently for the last few years to maintain a high musical standard in this city.

The oratorio of "Elijah" abounds in dramatic music, opening with the pronunciamento by Elijah, the stern prophet of Israel, that there shall be neither dew nor rain for three years. After that interval, portrayed by a brief instrumental overture, comes an appeal by the assembled followers of Ahab, the recreant Israelites, which is a wall for relief from the terrible drought. The theme progresses, interpreted in solos, trios, single and double quartettes, and mighty choruses. The solos of Elijah, the central figure, will be magnificently given by Ernest House, whose baritone voice is peculiarly adapted to the lofty music. Abraham Miller, whose singing here has won him a firm place in the estimation of the public, sings the tenor solos with the marvelous virility which is so striking a feature of his splendid work. The local soloists, Mrs. Fyfe, Miss Roper, Mrs. Rafferty, Miss Havens, George Dryer and Spencer McKern, are too well known to need encomium.

Seventy voices will participate in the chorus work, and with Mr. Lusk at the piano, the volume of sound is worthy of Mendelssohn's majestic choruses. Under Miss Dresser's direction much attention has been paid to the shading, so that the final result should be of major excellence. The opportunity to hear this wonderful oratorio, which is one of the musical masterpieces of the world, is one that ought not to be missed, and Spurgeon's hall should be filled to the doors.

The Carpenters Are Busy

Our store front has been torn out, soon to be replaced by an entirely up-to-date front. While all this remodeling is going on we want to close out the last vestage of the Tubbs Drug Store stock. We want to move it quickly and to do so have put prices on the different classes of merchandise that ought to appeal to the economical buyer.

There are bargains in every department but we can only mention a few of them here. You will have to come to the store to see what we are offering. Here you will fully appreciate what we have been trying to tell you: "It pays to trade at Dean's"

25c to 50c

Combs

In this stock we found combs of all kinds—celluloid combs, horn combs, rubber combs, aluminum combs, large combs. All differently priced. Now all these combs have been bunched in one lot and we put a uniform price on them ..... 25c

Two-Quart Hot Water Bags

Don't hope to buy one elsewhere for less than 65c, because you can't. We know it. We are in position to be certain of it. You are more apt to pay 75 cents for the identical bag. At ordinary wholesale cost, 75 cents would be only a fair price. We have larger ones of a somewhat better grade at from 75c to $1.50, according to size, and which are guaranteed. But, cost considered, no such quality has ever been offered in this city as this 50c one. You cannot afford not to get one; it may be wise to get several, and the best time to get one is now..... 50c

Lather Brushes

Who ever heard of a lather brush selling for only 5 cents? Yet that is the price I put on this lot that are marked for slaughter. These brushes have black japanned wood handle and mixed bristles, the other layer of which is genuine imitation badger. They look more like they were worth 25 cents than ..... 5c

Emery Boards

12 in package

A package of good emery boards is about the handiest thing you can have on your dressing table. There are times when you don't care to use a stiff steel nail file—it is then that an emery board comes in just right. If you have never used them come in and let us show you how nice they are and why. It certainly won't cost you much to try them out as we have put an unusual price on these..... 5c

3-quart Maroon Rubber Fountain Syringes

This lot of Fountain Syringes that we are closing out at 65 cents are too good to be overlooked. If you are going to need a syringe any time within the next few months it will pay you to take a look at these. We know that we cannot duplicate them—the present price of rubber makes that impossible. We always think the time to buy is when the price is below the market—now is your opportunity to do the same ..... 65c

Auto-stealer Decides Not to Appeal From Judgment of 3 Years in San Quentin

Clyde Taylor will be taken to the state prison at San Quentin tomorrow in charge of Deputy Sheriff Jackson of La Habra, to begin serving a three year term. Taylor was convicted of stealing Judge J. W. Townner's automobile. Attorney Ames prepared to appeal the case. Today, however, Attorney Bell for Taylor went into the Superior court and the appeal was dismissed, Taylor having decided to take his sentence as it stands. Taylor was in trouble a number of times. His conviction of grand larceny was on circumstantial evidence. He rolled the auto from its garage, but could not make away with it because he had no crank to start it. For Taylor's conviction the officers will receive a reward of $75 from the Santa Ana Automobile Club.

JUDGEMENT NOW $5 LESS THAN IT WAS

R. H. Deakins Had $32.75 in Lower Court; Got $27.75 in the Upper Court

R. H. Deakins lost $5 by appealing to the Superior court. He got judgment in the justice's court at Anaheim for $32.75 against J. Hiltcher. Deakins sued for $137.75 for work done on a well. Justice Howard gave Deakins judgment for $32.75. Yesterday the appeal was heard by Judge Densmore of Riverside, Tipton & Callor appearing for Deakins, and Head & Marks for Hiltcher, and judgment for $27.50 was given Deakins, without costs or attorney's fees.

W. H. Young, Santa Ana Man, Arrested on Charge of Acting as Agent for Lottery

W. H. Young, for many years a resident of Santa Ana, was fined $75 in Los Angeles yesterday for engaging in the selling of lottery tickets. After his arrest he admitted that he had been selling lottery tickets for the last eight years. Young claims the tickets were delivered to him in Santa Ana and that he had a large number of regular customers among ranchers, Japanese and Chinese in Orange and Los Angeles counties. It is said that he now lives in Boyle Heights, Los Angeles.

Young was arrested in Los Angeles by a policeman, who say him dealing with a Japanese barber. As Young and the officer started to get into the buggy, Young threw a pocket-book under the buggy. The officer saw the move, picked up the book and found that it contained lottery tickets of the Louisiana Lottery Co. of San Francisco.

On Young a paper was found that would indicate that A. B. Greenwald, a tobacco man and fight promoter, had violated his promise to leave the lottery business alone, and who is under a suspended sentence.

DEFENDANT'S CLAIM DOCTOR'S BILL IS $30

H. D. Slike of La Habra today put in an answer to the complaint of Dr. C. L. Rich of Fullerton who is suing him for $1,100 for professional services. The answer contends that Dr. Rich performed an operation upon Mrs. Slike for an agreed price of $25, with $5 to be added for the services of a physician to apply the anaesthetic, and denies that the defendant owes the physician more than $30. Slike is represented by Attorney Graham of Whittier.

Splendid Cloth Brushes

I found these brushes in the Tubbs stock marked at one dollar and a clerk that was with them insisted that they sold them for one dollar. Now they may have sold them for that money, I guess they did, you can buy one of them for just half that amount. They are worth fifty cents each according to the Dean way of marking and selling goods. Good big heavy back—extra long bristle—cloth brushes that will give you the best wear you ever received from a brush sold for ..... 50c

Scissors and Shears

If you could only see these scissors and shears you would at once realize the bargain we are offering you. Some are small scissors of very good quality steel. Some are button hole scissors that you cannot buy anywhere for less than 50 cents. Some are 9-inch straight shears. Some are 7-inch. Some 8-inch bent trimming shears. We offer you unlimited choice of all these styles at the low price of 25 cents ..... 25c

BLACK-FACED ELKS PUT ON MINSTREL SHOW BRIM
FULL OF FUN AND GINGER

It was a way-up minstrel show the Elks put on at the Grand Opera House last night, and it was a well pleased crowd, and a big one, that left the place after it had laughed its head off at the jokes and antics of the black-faced fellows on the stage, and after it had enjoyed the music and singing and the specialties put on for the entertainment of the audience.

Tonight the show goes on again.

There were some mighty good "niggahs" before the footlights last night. When the curtain raised it showed the crowded house a circle of darkies ready for the fray. In the center as interlocutor was A. J. Klunk of Orange, who presided with the genuineness of an old hand at the game.

In courtly costume, to say nothing of its loudness, sat the end men. With the bones, which they could rattle with a "suah 'nuff" rhythmic noise, were Will McLain, Paul Knauf, Hugh Lowe and Curtis Jordan. Opposite the bones were Fred Ross, Tarver Montgomery, John Tubbs and Howard Turner, handling their tambourines with an abandon that gave one an idea that they must have worn out a million rattles when they were kids none too young to be spanked.

One was also reminded of the age of man when the rattle is a toy of joy by another object on the stage. It was a pin worn upon the lapel of Tambo Montgomery's coat. This pin, at a distance, might have been taken for a safety pin, but that it was not a safety pin was carefully explained by the wearer. He pointed out to the interlocutor that the pin was a lodge pin, an Elk's emblem, that it was the first pin ever worn by an Elk.

Hugh Lowe got one off on Parke Roper. He found Roper driving around in the rain, holding an umbrella over his horse's tail, which, Roper told him he had to do because Wasser told him when he let the horse out of the barn that the horse would run away if he got the rein under his tail. Then Johnny Tubbs insisted on a receipt for a ten-dollar bill from Will McLain because he knew that St. Peter would be wanting to know if he had paid McLain that ten dollars he owed him and Tubbs didn't want to go running all over hell looking for McLain to get a receipt from him.

There were dozens of good hits, and it would take a column of fine print to get a start on them. So we must turn to the songsters.

Under the direction of George Towle, the singing of the chorus was melodious and pleasing.

Each of the soloists was called back for all he had. If he had no additional verses he had to sing his chorus over again anyhow. The songs and their singers were as follows:

"Hinkee Dee"—Paul Knauf.

"I Was a Hero Too"—Tarver Montgomery.

"Sweetest Girl in Dixie"—Joe Parsons.

"I'm So Sleepy"—Fred A. Ross.

"Mother Hasn't Spoke to Father Since"—Will McLain.

"Dear Old Dear"—Avrea Hall.

There was plenty of human interest in the words that were sung. For instance, this from "Hinkee Dee":

"The hair was red,
His wife's was gray,
Twenty-five a month now he has to pay."

When Joe Parsons finished his song a beautiful basket of cabbage leaves was handed to him. As he held it and sang his chorus he presented a touching picture. Fred Ross, who makes a first-class coon, made a hit with his sleepy song. But so far as hits are concerned, the songs were all hits. The first part of the entertainment closed with a real good opera burst, led by the end men, entitled "The Santa Ana Elks," by Santa Ana's Best.

Following the intermission came four specialty stunts. Some clever instrumental work was done by Charles Crandall and H. E. Brewster of Pomona. Whether tin cans, bottles, piano, guitar—or one of half a dozen other instruments—it was all the same to them. They tossed guitars from one to the other without missing a note.

E. H. Irying's bag punching was an exhibition well worth seeing. The punishment he gave that bag was something most fearful. Paul Knauf with a song and dance, held the boards down for about two minutes, and the scene climaxed uproariously when Fred Ross, who assisted in the chorus of the song, from behind the scenes, shouted, "Keystone Balm—get your money back."

H. G. Carpenter of San Bernardino, put on a high-class monologue, including a scrap of Richard Third as played by a dago. His dialect was perfect and his act one that the audience would have been glad to have had longer drawn out. Carpenter is not a professional entertainer, but he could be if he wanted to.

Then came the finale. It may not have been intentional, but the Elks came very near saving the best for the last. It was a cake walk for fair, and the frantic display of fancy hosiery beat any dry goods window you ever saw. There was an even half dozen pair—of cake walkers, not hosiery. Ladies named first, the couples as they pranced elegantly upon the stage, formed and cut pigeon-wings, were as follows: Titchenal and Fields; Connell and Tubbs; Turner and Lowe; Beckett and Lacy;

Surprising,
What Kodol Will Do

For you, when you need it. But the longer you neglect indigestion, the more you will suffer before Kodol can restore Good Digestion.

And, of course, indigestion if neglected long enough, brings on serious diseases in which Kodol cannot benefit you. Some of these there is no help for at all.

There are, in fact, very few ailments which cannot be traced directly to impure blood. And impure blood is always due to a disordered stomach.

Use Kodol and prevent Nervous Dyspepsia.

Kodol will effectually assist Nature to secure a complete restoration of good digestion. It does this by at once digesting all food in the stomach and keeping it digested, until the stomach is rested and can resume its own work. Kodol removes the cause—and the effect quickly removes itself.

When it is recalled that Apoplexy, Heart Disease, Cancer—and even Consumption—are due to poor digestion and poisons thus transmitted to the blood, and throughout the system—the importance of maintaining good digestion is at once realized.

We knew what Kodol would do before ever the first bottle was sold. If we did not know just what it will do, we would not guarantee it the way we do.

It is easy for you to prove Kodol—the next (or the first) time you have an attack of indigestion. And you will certainly be surprised at the results. It is perfectly harmless.

There can be no harm in trying something that may do you a great deal of good—when it costs you nothing if it doesn't.

ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

Apples are beginning to sell with vigor, and the storage stock is rapidly decreasing. Several of the varieties are about cleaned up and prices on several varieties are going higher. Among these are particularly the bellefours. The small 4 1/2-tiers are about consumed, and only the 4-tier remain. They advanced yesterday to $2.50 a box on fancy stock. Perma went up to $2.25, and the Langford seedlings took the same quotation. The market on Roman Beauties and winesaps is particularly good on account of the fact that these two varieties are the only two highly colored left, and as a result they are bringing small premiums. The former is selling as high as $3.50 per box. In addition to the demand for fresh apples, the market on dried apples is good, and several sales were reported in the vicinity of 7 cents a pound on good stock.

The market on eggs was steady and an excellent demand was apparent in northern coast stock. Several heavy sales of that grade were made. A car of Petalumas was sold at a straight 28 cents a dozen, as high as the best price on locals. Case counts from this territory moved well, but receipts were light, only 378 cases being reported in.

Butter receipts were heavy. The market was active on firsts, and sales of good proportion were reported in this grade. Cooking was called for. Total receipts were 34,983 pounds.

Swiss imported cheese was the principal offering in that particular commodity. Receipts, 1021 pounds.

A car of Utah potatoes was received.

ad among the other arrivals, altogether totaling 1164 sacks. The Utah spuds were held considerably below Oregon, Highlands, and the few others that are now left on the market. The entire car was offered as low as $2.35 a hundred.

Bermuda onions have come down finally to the quotation at which they will rule here throughout the coming season. They may go a little lower, but the average price is considered about $1 a crate, which was the quotation established yesterday. There were no reports received. UNSWISS were no reported receipts.

Pink beans were in good demand. A hundred sacks were sold at $3.50 a hundred. Dried chili was in good demand and some sold as low as 9 cents a pound. This is considered low, but the demand in the past few weeks has not been as heavy as usual, and the new chili is beginning to arrive in quantities sufficient to supply the demand at a reasonable figure.

Celery made another jump. All that remains is in the hands of two firms who stored a considerable amount of the vegetable at the time when local stock was at its best. The new quotation on celery ranges from $6 to $6.50 a crate. Peas were up on the best quality stock and sold as high as 5 cents. Beans were unchanged. Spinach brought as high as 20 cents per dozen bunches. Tomatoes were lower with the arrival of a car from the south. The best offerings were made at $1.25 a crate. Artichokes sold from 40 to 75 cents a dozen.

WRITES FROM SANTA ANA ON TOUR OF COUNTY CAPITALS

Harry C. Carr of the Los Angeles Times is making a tour of the county capitals of Southern California, and writing letters to his paper. The first of them appears in the Times this morning. It is from "Santa Ana, the Gretna Green of the South." The letter follows:

SANTA ANA, May 5.—The eloping season has set in rather early this year. The adventurous June brides are arriving in May.

A man in New York wrote an opera called "The Honeymoon Trail," and laid the scene of it in California. But he didn't consider the map closely enough.

The "Honeymoon Trail" begins at Los Angeles, a city named for the angels, and ends at Santa Ana, a city named for a saint.

Were Mr. Huntington a man of romance, he would fix up his trolley line to fit the part. Rightly, he ought to have the conductors in frock coats and high hats, and all Santa Ana cars should start in a procession at exactly high noon.

When this Gretna Green first began Santa Ana didn't like it much; but now they have become reconciled.

When the clerks in the courthouse see a couple coming with that perfectly unconscious air, one of them takes up the telephone and says, briefly: "Judge, come on up." At which Judge Smithwick, whose office is in the basement, hikes up stairs, and it's all over.

Travelers on the Honeymoon Trail from Los Angeles are of four kinds.

A—The bride 15 years older than hubby and ashamed to have it published in the city papers.

B—The bridegroom of 17 finds it easier to swear he is 21 in Santa Ana, where his fond mamma does not reside.

C—The elopers who contrive to save expenses by a runaway wedding—with no one pursuing.

D—The tragic wedding, with a father who glares murderously at the scared bridegroom throughout the ceremony.

This spring there are more than ever of all four kinds.

As the office of Justice of the Peace in Santa Ana is worth about $3 per elopement, Judge Smithwick will probably have to fight for his job next election.

Although it is nearly nineteen months until another election, Orange county politicians are already putting on war bonnets and feathers.

Under the new primary law, no one seems able to find out whether there is such a thing as a County Central Committee; but if there is, then one part of Santa Ana is "agin" it.

About the time that Robin Hood and his merry men romped in Sherwood Forest, a man named Lacy was elected sheriff. And he has held the job with more or less regularity in Santa Ana ever since.

This year wishful politicians have sprung up in the hope that maybe, under the new primary law, they can pry Lacy out of his job.

As before remarked, no one pretends to understand the direct primary, but all the long-discouraged politicians are waiting for it with the hope and longing with which a chronic invalid orders a new patent medicine.

Our old friend, Sandy McPhee, who believes in Lincoln-Roosevelt politics at long range and straight push politics at home, has come near closing up shop in disgust.

There are in Santa Ana two newspapers. One is the Blade, edited by Sandy—the other is the Register, edited by Baumgartner.

It seems that the Santa Ana merchants objected to the necessity of paying double advertising bills. The result of their meditations was an informal suggestion that one of the two papers cancel itself, leaving one paper and one advertising bill.

It is said that the merchants agreed to sign a contract to advertise in no other paper that might be started in Santa Ana for a period of five years.

After much dickered McPhee was on the point of selling out to the Register for $22,000 when he remembered how Baumgartner, on arriving in Santa Ana to start the Register, had been his guest and slept in his bed.

"He slept in my bed—then he started a rival paper, and I'll not sell out," cried Sandy. So there are still two papers.

The Orange county Board of Supervisors seems about to try a curious experiment in taxation. They want to levy a special poll tax—not a property tax—to build a County Hospital and poor farm.

Singularly enough, the county has never had either.

There have been so few poor that it has never seemed necessary.

The conditions now are shocking. Almost in the center of town is a private residence, surrounded by a chicken yard.

In this house are gathered the indigents of the county in charge of a caretaker. In the chicken yard are the tents of some tubercular victims. You could almost touch their tents from the sidewalk.

Scattered here and there through the county are indigents in private families, supported by small allowances from the county treasury. It is said that a convincing-looking invalid is the grandest asset that some of the Mexican families in Orange county can boast.

Today, however, the chairman of the Chamber of Commerce went before the supervisors with a peremptory request that some definite arrangement be made for starting a poor farm. He presented the protests of the Anti-Tuberculosis League also.

The position of the supervisors is somewhat embarrassing. Last November the question of voting bonds for a poor farm was put on the ballots and did not receive the necessary two-thirds.

One of the supervisors suggested, as a way out, levying a $2 extra poll tax to raise the money.

Land is increasing in value so rapidly that a site ought to be selected as soon as possible.

Santa Ana business men are considerably elated over Mr. Huntington's promise to have that city connected with the sea by July.

Although the most charming natural resorts of the south coast lie along the sea front of Orange county, there has been no trolley connection. When Santa Ana people wanted to go to Balboa or Huntington Beach or Newport, they had to take the trolley back to Watts and there change cars.

The projected trolley line was originally meant to open up the beet sugar lands near Santa Ana.

Backed by the Santa Ana owners of the Southern California Sugar Factory, the line will now be extended through Talbot to Huntington Beach. It is expected that much of the summer trade of the beaches will be diverted to Santa Ana.

An auto line will also be put on this summer from Santa Ana to Laguna. This lovely beach will, no doubt, in time, be able to live down the fierce water color works of art, painted by the artist colony that there abides.

Santa Ana has a chance to do a very gracious thing. Up in the foothills back of the town is a bit of wild woods—some 160 acres presented by Mr. Irvine, the owner of San Joaquin rancho.

They never have been able to find a name for it. They wanted to call it Irvine Park, but the donor modestly declined. Then they wanted to name it after the chairman of the Board of Supervisors, but the sovereign people raised a roar and the gentleman's virtues must remain his chief monument.

At present the place bears the insufferably ugly name of "County Park."

Why not name it for Modjeska? Her will is now being probated at Santa Ana.

Readers of the Times will no doubt remember the state of affairs at Mojave, when a big band of sure-thing gamblers who were robbing aqueduct laborers were driven out.

They hung forlornly around Los Angeles for a few days, dodging detectives. It seems that they have now drifted into the small towns.

Today a delegation from Garden Grove complained to the Santa Ana authorities.

Oddly enough, the next downfall of these crooks is due to come because they refused to attend a Y. M. C. A. convention.

"I don't know one card from another," said the emissary from Garden Grove, "But when I went to the poolroom to invite them to the Y. M. C. A. convention, one of them looked up and said: 'Oh, hell; we are gambling.'"

Abstract Offices to Close

—Following the custom of Abstract and Title Companies in all other counties in Southern California, and in view of the fact that the state laws render the public records inaccessible on Saturday afternoon, the local abstract companies will hereafter close their places of business at noon each Saturday.
